

HARRY HAFFERKAMP

Harry Hafferkamp, aka HarryJams was born in 50's rural Ohio, raised in 60s SoCal, and recently moved to the Portland area after 30 years in Florida.

He has, or currently plays not only guitar and guitar synthesizer in most genres, but bass guitar, keyboards, drums, clarinet, trumpet, and French horn. He is also a guitar builder, inventor, and was a nuclear trained electrician on submarines in the Navy. He attended BGSU in Ohio, and studied music at Mt. Hood CC in Gresham, OR.

His original songs have been on radio and TV, and he loves progressive rock as a side project with Portland's Quadrivia, and is currently the music minister at Immanuel Lutheran Church in Woodburn, OR. He is a crib to casket musician and was called a songbird in first grade. He is also a sound system expert having designed dozens of commercial sound installations and has been the sound mixer for many national recording artists.

Harry's contributions to The ByrdBrains include guitar, keyboards and vocals.
